Static - is one of those pieces that I like to call "Challenge Pieces." A majority of my work is filled with bright colors. Every once in awhile I enjoy the challenge of working strictly with black and white. I incorporated many different techniques and styles that I have perfected over the years.

Matthew Laurence Knott - I am a multidisciplinary artist based in South Orange County, California. I am self-taught and best known for my eye-popping characters and obsession with color. Growing up I found my inspiration in comic books, cartoons, and street art. My goal is to distract viewers with my work and invoke a state of bliss and joy. My art has taken me around the world collaborating with brands such as Armani, Levono, and Samsung.
